Personal Alarms for safety and independence

Proceeds from the sale of these products help Age NI to deliver vital services to older people across Northern Ireland.

Confidence.

Help is just a button press away.

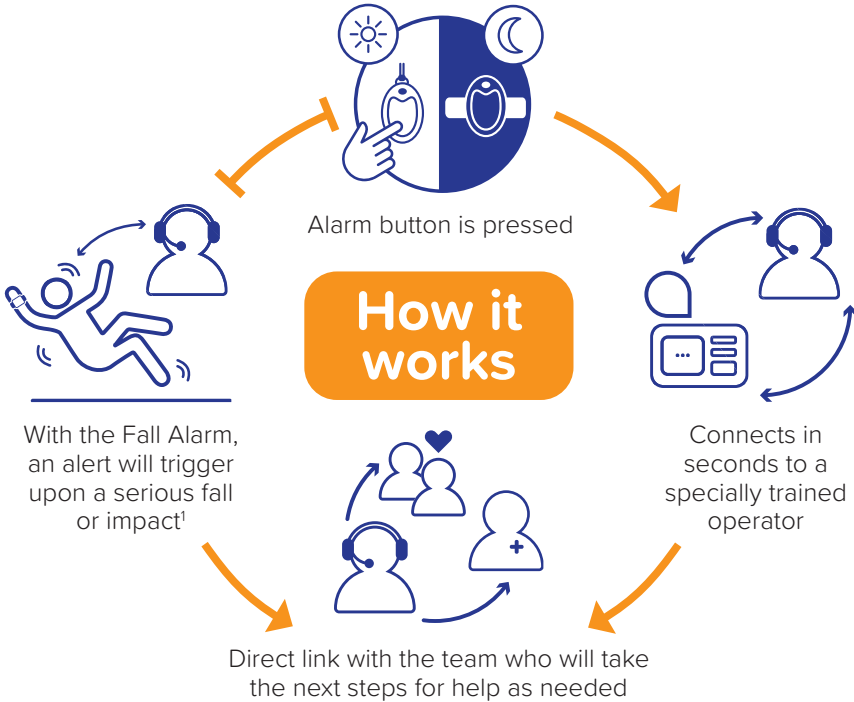

Falls - and the injuries they cause - are on the rise. They can threaten the health and independence of older adults. As a family carer, you can do something to help them maintain their independence for longer, and get help quickly if the worst does happen.

A personal alarm helps give the confidence needed to stay active, helping maintain health and mobility.

With a Personal Alarm, your loved ones can stay independent at home longer.

Don't wait until it's too late.

- The confidence this brings can allow older adults to remain in the home they love, living life on their terms
- By providing a personal alarm, they can have the peace of mind they need to continue staying active and independent
- Feel reassured that loved ones can get help quickly in the event of a fall or emergency

BT have announced that by 2025 all analogue phone lines will be replaced with digital ones. Our fully-digital personal alarms are future proof and do not rely on a telephone landline

Many people who fall develop a fear of falling and become less active

Every 10 seconds of every day, an older adult falls

Data from www.poppi.org.uk

“A Personal Alarm can reduce overall hospital admissions in older adults by up to 50%.”

Prof. James Brown

Office for National Statistics

Staying active as we age improves both physical and mental health

“It is really reassuring knowing that if my mother is in difficulty she can press the button and someone will respond.”

The Age NI Personal Alarm provided by Taking Care, part of AXA Health.

¹ 3 months free in the first year, applies to new personal alarm customers only when you pay annually by Direct Debit and order online or by phone. Any refund will be calculated on a pro-rata basis. Offer subject to change and may be withdrawn at any time.

² The Fall Alarm cannot guarantee to detect all falls and is dependent on the impact from the fall. If you fall and can press the emergency button, then you should do so.

³ If you call the 0800 number, you will be dealing with Taking Care. Calls to 0800 numbers are free on mobile phones and landlines.

⁴ 30-day money back guarantee requires initial set-up fee to be paid upfront and if you cancel within the first 30 days this set-up fee will be fully refunded when you return your alarm equipment.

⁵ Digital Personal Alarm can be worn in the bath and shower (IP68 standard). Taking Care Anywhere can be worn in the bathroom and shower (IP67 standard).
